There will be a meeting of the Council to-night, in joint session, to hear a report from the Committee on Manufactures. An important movement is on foot, and unless the stubborness of some of the Council should kick the fat into the fire, we shall have a very large manufacturing establishment in operation within a few months.

Messrs. Miller and Miller have just received an unusually large, well assorted and strictly fashionable supply of piece goods, to which they ask special attention. The lot embraces the finest cloths and casimers ever brought to Cairo, and such a variety of steles that all tastes may be accommodated. Suits or garments from these goods are made to order in the best manner and latest style, and at figures that will defy competition. For proof of this they only ask to be put upon trial. At all events call around and see the new goods. jan 25tf.

What has become of Reverend Jacob Bradley? He should not hide his light under a bushel, while the Reverend Thomas Shores is blazing like a meteor in the heavens of our municipal politics. Why is not Jacob, like Thomas, gathering the faithful of his flock into a political club? The attention of Mr. Linegar is called to Jacob's unaccountable inactivity. Colored preachers seem to make politics a business; and why not may yet be a United States Senator from Illinois. White Printer and Williams and Manager, and

HUNTING EXTRAORDINARY.

Eight Hundred and Twenty-eight Ducks killed in None Days.

We have in Calro a hunter par excellence, a man who is as much devoted to the business as was Nimrod of old. Indeed, with his gun and dog, during the hunting season, he makes his livelihood, and manages to pocket an extra dellar er two against rainy days and the sweltering season of the year. We need not say we have reference to Pat Kelly. Every citizen of Calro knows him, knows his folbles, his eccentricities and his devotion to the sports of the field. He is one of our characters. Within the last few days he, and a companion, named Grundy Bryant, have performed a feat unequaled in the annals of hunting. On the 14th inst, they began a campaign against the ducks in the lakes of Ballard county, Kentucky, and within nine days from that date, had killed sixty-nine dozen-eight hundred and twenty-eightand returned them to Mr. Geo. Oimstead, their agent for the sale of game in this elly, who sold them, netting for the hunters the handsome sum of $189 75. Beside the ducks, they killed some other game which is not taken into the account. We believe we are safe in saying that this feat is unequaled in the anwith the Bailard county bottoms knows that they are hunting grounds which are not at all attractive, and present difficulties which an amateur with gun and dor would not eare to encounter, But Kelly and Bryant are old hands at the business; know every foot of the ground they hunted over, and never aim their guns in vain.

Mayor Wilson, in his construction of either thoughtlessly or by design, slighted the Fourth Ward, the ward which secured to him his election; and, in doing between his teeth, and then withdrew it so, has manifested a partiality for his own ward, which is remarkable, to say the least of it. There are nine standing committees, and the Fourth Ward furnishes a chairman to neither of these, while the Second Ward furnishes a chairman for five of the nine-Streets, Arter; Barelay Bro's, sell it cheap for cash. A Wild Goose Chase After Horses.

The other rating Miles Parker discovered that the back door of his stable had been opened during the night, and that two of his horses were missing. He at once gave the alarm to Carl and, after telegraphing, started in pursuit of the stolen horses, swearing vengance against the thieves. Carl started up the missisippl and Parker up the Ohio. Just outside the levee, Carl came upon the Missing horses, quietly cropping at the road side; and, in great haste, brought them back to the city. As soon as he could be telegraphed to Mound City to have Parker stopped in his ardent thief-catch. ing expedition; but, unfortunately, Miles had got beyond Mound City, and was rushing frantically in the direction of Louisville. At last accounts he was stil on his winding way, determined therever give up the chase until he had caught the thieves who had stolen his horses. He is probably going yet. Some per on had entered the stable, in all probability a corn thief, and had left the doors of n. Of course, the horses walked out; and, when Carl found them, they were enjoying their new-found liberty in a horselike and philosophical manner.

A negro man, in the Fourth Ward, was attacked the other day by pnuemonia. The disease began in his arm, passed up to his shoulder and finally reached his nals of hunting. Any one acquainted heart and killed him. When he first complained of the disease, his wife immediately came to the conclusion that he had been "hoodooed;" and, in the belief that she could drive away the spell, began a [series of incantations. While she was industriously at work, the unfortunate husband died in great agony. A physician would have saved him; but the widow still persists in the assertion that he was the victim of the spells of some other negroes who desire the standing committees of the council, to possess themselves of the propperty he left. She says that when she put a silver quarter of a dollar she could see all kinds of snakes, lizzards and other crawling things upon it, and that after death his forehead was covered with reptiles.

Our river reporter enters into an argument to show that he was correct in reporting business fair. We were always on his side. There is not a city in the West in which there is doing a hveller business than is now being done in Cairo. As a matter of course, we are sharing duties; Barciay for the same reason; Mer with the balance of the country the hard Kee ditto; and Winter chalman of the times, but we get a full share of the business that is going.

You can Regulate the Color.

Every natural shade from light brown to deepest black is imparted by Phalon's Vitalia or Salvation for the hair. The number of applications determines the tinge. It would be like comparing shining water to the drainings from a marsh, to compare it with the ordinary hair maldawlw.
